Goethe's Visit to Carlsbad.
There is no doubt that the life of the great poet was greatly prolonged by drinking the waters of the Sprudel Spring. In our day we have the Sprudel Spring brought to us in the form of salt, which is obtained by evaporation from the waters of Carlsbad.

The Carlsbad Sprudel Salt (powder form) is in no sense a mere purgative, but is an alternative and eliminative remedy which dissolves tenacious bile, allays irritation and removes obstruction by aiding nature. It acts soothingly and without pain. Beware of imitations. The genuine article has the signature of "EISNER & MENDELSON CO., Sole Agents, New York," on every bottle.

MISS NELLIE

A LADY WINS THE STATE ORATORICAL ASSOCIATION HONORS.

Athletic Association Refuses to Expel Butler and DePauw Withdraws in a Hurl.

For the second time in the history of the Indiana State Oratorical Association the honors have been won by a young woman. Miss Nellie E. Wood, of Earlham, representative of the first place in the annual contest at English, was the only young woman orator and she appeared on the program with six young men competitors. The subject of her oration was, "The Negro in the South." Upon it she scored three first grades on thought and two on delivery. Miss Wood's production was so full of patriotism, earnestness and hopefulness, and her manner was so pleasing that the judges concluded she deserved the first prize. Scene-Shifters' Union.
CHICAGO, March 8.—Men who shift scenery in all of the large play-houses throughout Illinois, stage carpenters, electricians, property men and others engaged in mechanical theatrical work have organized a union to-day. The new schedule of wages was adopted, which, if enforced, means an increase of 50 per cent. over the salaries heretofore received by night men and 30 per cent. over that paid day workers. The new schedule does not materially affect the wages of the heads of departments, but is confined in a great measure to the actual workers, and especially the scene shifters. The schedule effect must be ratified by the national convention of the union, which will meet in Boston during April in Boston. In addition to the new schedule of wages, the union has demanded for what is called in stage parlance "putting a show on" and "taking it off." Work in this connection has heretofore been performed gratis by the stage hands.

RECOVERED HIS SHEEP

WYOMING MAN'S LONG AND SUCCESSFUL HUNT FOR HIS FLOCK.

They were stolen by an employee and sold in Kansas City, finally reaching Clinton County, Indiana.

In the United States Court, yesterday, Judge Baker heard the proceedings in the case of Griffith Edwards, one of the largest sheep raisers of the West, against Michael Miller, a stock dealer of Clinton County. The suit involved the possession of eight hundred head of sheep, representing over $2000. Griffith Edwards, the plaintiff, owns an extensive sheep ranch near Rock Creek, Wyo. Oct. 2, 1884, he started a drove of 3,000 sheep to Rawlins, the nearest railway station, in charge of one of his employees, a young Mexican, who could speak but a few words of English. Edwards the sheep was to be shipped to Chicago over the Union Pacific railroad. The Mexican being unfamiliar with the route, the ranchman sent with him a man named McCarty, whom he had picked up in the town of Rock Creek.

The drove was driven away from the ranch McCarty left the drove on the pretense of going to the nearest town for horse feed. He returned the following day with a man whom he called McLean. McCarty told the Mexican that McLean had bought the sheep and produced a letter purporting to have been written by Edwards, instructing the herder to assist the purchaser in getting the stock to the town of Rife, nearly two hundred miles from Rawlins. The Mexican, at the instigation of McCarty, helped drive the sheep to Rife, and when that point was reached, nearly a month later, the entire drove was loaded on to the cars and started to Kansas City. Edwards did not learn of the theft until he received a telegram from the Mexican, who had been deserted by the men in Kansas City.

Edwards hurried on to Kansas City, but was unable to find any trace of McCarty and McLean. It was said they had cashed the checks received for the stock and set out at once for the Indian Territory. A few weeks later the sheep turned up in the stock yards at Chicago, where a part of the flock was owned by Michael Miller, son of Frankfort, Mr. Edwards identified his sheep by the letter "E" branded on the flanks. Two months later he was in suit in replevin for the flock, and Miller & Son were compelled to yield their property to the lawful owner. Edwards gave bond and the case was heard yesterday. The judge decided that Edwards was entitled to his property for $200 in money. The only remedy left for Miller & Son was to recover the value of the Chicago men who sold them the sheep.

Dr. Barrett, Missioner.
Despite snow and inclement weather a fair-sized audience was again present at St. Paul's Church to listen to the words of Dr. Barrett upon the subject of the good spirit and the evil spirit. The text was, "The law of the spirit of life hath made me free from the law of sin and death." He spoke of the abiding power of the Holy Spirit, and the work of the spirit of Christ, and of the work of the spirit of evil in opposition to this. The service was a most interesting one, and the spirit of the spirit of life was conquered.

RECOVERED HIS SHEEP

WYOMING MAN'S LONG AND SUCCESSFUL HUNT FOR HIS FLOCK.

They were stolen by an employee and sold in Kansas City, finally reaching Clinton County, Indiana.

In the United States Court, yesterday, Judge Baker heard the proceedings in the case of Griffith Edwards, one of the largest sheep raisers of the West, against Michael Miller, a stock dealer of Clinton County. The suit involved the possession of eight hundred head of sheep, representing over $2000. Griffith Edwards, the plaintiff, owns an extensive sheep ranch near Rock Creek, Wyo. Oct. 2, 1884, he started a drove of 3,000 sheep to Rawlins, the nearest railway station, in charge of one of his employees, a young Mexican, who could speak but a few words of English. Edwards the sheep was to be shipped to Chicago over the Union Pacific railroad. The Mexican being unfamiliar with the route, the ranchman sent with him a man named McCarty, whom he had picked up in the town of Rock Creek.

The drove was driven away from the ranch McCarty left the drove on the pretense of going to the nearest town for horse feed. He returned the following day with a man whom he called McLean. McCarty told the Mexican that McLean had bought the sheep and produced a letter purporting to have been written by Edwards, instructing the herder to assist the purchaser in getting the stock to the town of Rife, nearly two hundred miles from Rawlins. The Mexican, at the instigation of McCarty, helped drive the sheep to Rife, and when that point was reached, nearly a month later, the entire drove was loaded on to the cars and started to Kansas City. Edwards did not learn of the theft until he received a telegram from the Mexican, who had been deserted by the men in Kansas City.

Edwards hurried on to Kansas City, but was unable to find any trace of McCarty and McLean. It was said they had cashed the checks received for the stock and set out at once for the Indian Territory. A few weeks later the sheep turned up in the stock yards at Chicago, where a part of the flock was owned by Michael Miller, son of Frankfort, Mr. Edwards identified his sheep by the letter "E" branded on the flanks. Two months later he was
